Chester and York

Respect is a key value within our school, which features on our Arch values. Respect should be shown towards everyone no matter their culture, sexuality, gender or ethnicity. Students need to remember whatever you put on social media is traceable and can stay there forever. We are an extremely diverse school. Listen and respect other people's views and opinions even if you disagree. Anything you can do can trace back to your future self.

Worcester and Lincoln

Students in the National C of E Academy should treat each other with respect no matter their gender, diversity, sexuality, religion, faith or race, everyone is equal to each other. This school is one big community, and whilst we're all unique we should all be treated the same way. Nobody should be disrespected whether it be face to face or through social media.
